The OpenSSL toolkit stays under a dual license, i.e. both the conditions of the OpenSSL License and the original SSLeay license apply to the toolkit. See below for the actual license texts. Actually both licenses are BSD-style Open Source licenses. In case of any license issues related to OpenSSL please contact openssl-core@openssl.org.

1. Definitions

The terms "reproduce," "reproduction," "derivative works," and "distribution" have the same meaning here as under U.S. copyright law. A "contribution" is the original software, or any additions or changes to the software.

A "contributor" is any person that distributes its contribution under this license.
"Licensed patents" are a contributor's patent claims that read directly to its contribution.

2. Grant of Rights

(A) Copyright Grant - Subject to the terms of this license, including the license conditions and limitations in section 3, each contributor grants a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free copyright license to reproduce their contribution, prepare derivative works of their contribution, and distribute their contribution or any derivative works that are subsequently created.

(B) Patent Grant - Subject to the terms of this license, including the license conditions and limitations in section 3, each contributor grants a non-exclusive, worldwide, royalty-free license under its licensed patents, to make, have made, use, sell, offer for sale, import, and/or otherwise dispose of its contribution in the software or derivative works of the contribution in the software.

3. Conditions and Limitations
(A) No Trademark License - This license does not grant rights to use any contributors' name, logo, or trademarks.

(B) If you bring a patent claim against any contributor over patents that you claim are infringed upon by the software, your patent license from such a contributor to the software, ends automatically.

(C) If any portion of the software is distributed, all copyright, patent, trademark, and attribution notices that are present in the software, must be retained.

(D) If any portion of the software in source code form is distributed, you may do so only under this license, by including a complete copy of this license with your distribution. If any portion of the software in compiled or object code form is distributed, you may only do so under a license that complies with this license.

(E) The software is licensed "as-is." Users bear any risks associated with its use. The contributors give no express warranties, guarantees or conditions. You may have additional consumer rights under your local laws which this license cannot change. To the extent permitted under your local laws, the contributors exclude the implied warranties of merchantability and fitness for a particular purpose and for non-infringement.
